

PEAK ROCK CAPITAL CONTINUES TO EXPAND FIRM WITH NEW SENIOR HIRES AND NEW OFFICE IN LONDON

Austin, Texas, November 13, 2018 – Peak Rock Capital LLC (“Peak Rock” or the “Firm”), a leading middle-market private investment firm making equity and debt investments in companies across North America and Europe, today announced the recent addition of four new professionals to its team, as well as three senior-level promotions. Joining Peak Rock are Thomas Moran as Managing Director, Philos Carnio as Principal, David Alter as Senior Vice President, and David Wolfish as Vice President.

Anthony DiSimone, Chief Executive Officer of Peak Rock, said, "Our recent hiring activity reflects the growing momentum of the firm. Each of our recent hires brings a unique set of capabilities to the firm, and we are pleased to have their skills and experience as we continue to scale our platform in the U.S. and Europe. We are pleased to welcome such capable and established investment professionals to the Peak Rock family."

Peak Rock continues to build its presence in Europe with the opening of a new office in London, which will serve as its European headquarters going forward. The Firm’s new London office, which complements its other European office in Brussels, is led by Managing Director Alex Dabbous, who joined Peak Rock earlier in 2018. In addition, Philos Carnio has joined Peak Rock as a Principal in London, adding to the capabilities of Peak Rock’s growing European presence. Mr. Carnio was previously a Principal in the London office of Clayton, Dubilier & Rice.

Thomas Moran has joined Peak Rock in Austin as a Managing Director with a focus on real estate-related opportunities. Drawing on his extensive experience evaluating and executing real estate transactions, Mr. Moran will help expand the Firm’s capabilities in real estate across both debt and equity opportunities. He most recently served as a Managing Director with Madison Marquette and as a Principal with Atalaya Capital Management.

Additionally, Peak Rock has added David Alter, Senior Vice President, and David Wolfish, Vice President, to the investment team in Austin. Mr. Alter and Mr. Wolfish join the seven additional new hires welcomed to the investment and finance teams earlier this year.

Mr. DiSimone continued, “The hiring of Mr. Carnio comes as we continue to see strong opportunities across European markets, which are an important part of our strategy going forward. In addition, Mr. Moran’s real estate expertise complements our existing capabilities within the real estate space, and our investment team has been further strengthened through the addition of Mr. Alter and Mr. Wolfish.”

The Firm has also promoted Jordan Campbell to Managing Director, Garret Iden to Senior Vice President of Business Development, and Karson Chang to Vice President. “The promotions of Jordan, Garret and Karson are well deserved and highlight the extraordinary job they have done creating value for our investors as we have significantly grown our platform over the last several years,” added Mr. DiSimone.

Peak Rock recently closed its second family of funds at $1.3 billion at the end of 2017 and has executed five control transactions from the funds.
